

A Short History

Mr. Holsenback received his B.A. in Politics & Government from the University of Puget Sound, where he was awarded the Charles T. Battin Trophy for Demonstrated Success in Politics. He received his J.D. from King Hall School of Law, University of California, Davis. At King Hall, Mr. Holsenback served as Senior Notes and Comments Editor of the U.C. Davis Law Review, receiving the Patrick Hopkins Memorial Award for Outstanding Law Review Writer.

Upon his graduation from King Hall, Mr. Holsenback worked for Gray, Cary, Ames & Frye for three years as a member of that firm's civil litigation and intellectual property departments. Thereafter, he co-founded the AV-rated* firm Tremblay & Holsenback, practicing there until leaving to pursue a solo practice, which he maintains in addition to being Of Counsel to Dostart Clapp & Coveney, LLP.

Mr. Holsenback is admitted to practice before the courts of the State of California and the U.S. District Courts for the District of Colorado, and the Central, Eastern, Northern, and Southern Districts of California.

On a Personal Note

Dan is as tenacious in the gym as he is in the courtroom, training CrossFit every chance he gets. He is a huge San Diego Padres fan and is thrilled to be able to enjoy games with both his father and his young son. Dan collects contemporary art and first edition books and regrets ever giving up his 1965 Vespa GS scooter.
